

Are you a Behavioral Health Agency Challenged by COVID-19?

We understand you are expected to deliver more with fewer resources. Let us help you sort through your challenges and make data-driven decisions with confidence.

We can support you during COVID-19 response in a variety of ways, including:

- Understanding benefits of and how to leverage COVID-19 relief legislation and packages
- Planning to deliver services remotely, particularly telehealth services
- Support with mitigating risks of rapid telehealth implementation
- Ad hoc and intermittent needs assessment of services, programs, communities, and populations
- Support to ensure client privacy and confidentiality with remote service provision
- Implementation support for short- and long-term emergency response strategies
- Organizational assessment, right-sizing, and cost reduction strategies
- Community surveys to better understand what services are needed locally
- Resource and staffing inventory development to highlight assets and gaps
- Funding research and grant writing

We will:

Deliver Trauma-Informed and Culturally-Responsive Services

Leverage Assets and Minimize Burden on Staff

Employ Strengths-Based Approaches

Build your Capacity for Continuous Improvement

Share and Utilize Best Practices

Conduct Reliable and Secure Mixed-Methods Data Analysis

Adapt in Real-Time based on Dynamic and Rapidly Changing Needs

Provide Actionable and Feasible Recommendations

Why RDA consultants are useful during crisis:

- We are experienced leaders of problem solving
- We bring a cross-systems lens that enhances collaboration and efficiencies
- We share and utilize our knowledge of how other jurisdictions are addressing similar issues
- We have a robust inventory of potential approaches and strategies to accelerate progress
- We bring experience facilitating complex planning across multiple stakeholders
- We guide agencies through building efficiencies with fewer resources

With RDA, you can expect:

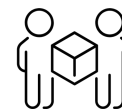

Customized Services

Demonstrated Expertise

Effective Strategies

Authentic Partnership

Values and Integrity